1. Claims 1-6 and 40-55 remain for examination.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-6 and 40-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(a) Claim 1, "swapping activity" is an abstract description and does not recite a physical functional operation.

(b) Claims 43 and 49, the same as (a) above.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-6 and 40-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beacom et al, U.S. Patent No. 5,093,908 in view of Datta et al, U.S. Patent No. 6,393,572, Fleck et al, U.S. Patent No. 6,405, 273 and Takayama et al, U.S. Patent No. 6,802, 017, all cited previously.

The rejection is respectfully maintained for the reasons set forth in the previous office action incorporated herein by reference.

6. Applicant's arguments filed January 12, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argued that Beacon teaches an overlapped concurrent operation (col. 1, line 49) and not a serial individual operation, thus increasing power consumption.

The portion cited as prior art is, however, in the background section (col. 1, lines 22-46), which describes a serial operation, from which the reference teaches away towards a concurrent operation.

The background section teaches the less power consuming serial operation.

Applicant also argued in an earlier response that "swapping activity" is described in the specification as switching from the state of one being active while the other being inactive to the state of one being inactive and the other being active, and applicants are their own lexicographers and any functional expression can be used.

Examiner's position is that "swapping activity" may be represented by many functional descriptions, however, the phrase itself is not a functional expression.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Fernando et al taught a method of deactivating instruction path to save power.

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 2111

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
